

You bill by the hour. Not the 40 minutes booking a flight.

For consulting firms, every hour counts. Yet partners and senior consultants spend a disproportionate amount of time on travel admin — booking, approvals, expense reports. Worse: when travel is billed to specific engagements, the allocation is often wrong. Finance reconstructs it from memory and email chains at month-end.

WHAT IT'S COSTING YOU

- ⊗ Billable hours lost to travel admin
direct revenue leakage on every engagement
- ⊗ Travel not tagged to client or engagement
inaccurate project P&Ls and disputed client invoices
- ⊗ No approval on senior bookings
partners book premium travel without oversight
- ⊗ Manual expense reconciliation
finance spends days reconstructing what belongs where

WHAT CHANGES WITH BIZAWAY

- ◇ Engagement-coded booking
Every booking tagged to a client or project code at time of booking. No reconstruction at month-end. Client billing accurate from day one.
- ◇ Role-based travel policies
Junior consultants economy, mid-level business on approval, partners flex. Set it once, enforce it automatically.
- ◇ Billable vs. internal travel split
Instantly separate client-billable travel from internal overhead. One report, pre-formatted for your finance system.
- 🕒 24/7 TED Support
Your engagement manager is flying to Riyadh Sunday evening. The ticket has an error. TED resolves it before the check-in queue forms.
- 🕒 Consolidated invoice
One invoice per billing period, exportable to your ERP, tagged by client, engagement, and travel type.
